Firemen Halt Stanford Ave. House Fires

Firemen from the San Mateo County Forest Service, Redwood City Fire Dept. and Woodside Fire Dept. Saturday night battled fires which did an estimated $6000 damage to two residences on Stanford Ave., approximately six-tenths of a mile south of Redwood City off Middlefield Rd. Firemen from Menlo Park and San Carlos stood by at Redwood City.

County firemen credited the Redwood City and Woodside Fire Departments with preventing complete destruction of the frame buildings. Shingled roofs and attics at 521 and 523 Stanford Ave. were destroyed, as were a garage and shed in back of the homes. Little damage was done to furnishings, firemen reported.

The fire was started by two small boys playing with railroad flares in a shed where salvage newspapers collected by Junior Commandos were stored, firemen said. The homes are near the railroad track which crosses Middlefield Rd.

A neighbor, Burton Perkins, 16, 512 Douglas St., was injured while fighting the fire. He reportedly fell from the top of the roof of one of the houses and hit a fence. He was treated at Community Hospital in San Mateo for deep scratches on his chin, neck and cheek. He suffered no burns.

A strong wind fanned the blaze, fireman said. A third house a few yards away was not damaged.

The residence at 521 Stanford Ave. was occupied by Mrs. Lillian Martinez. Alfred Martinez is the owner. Tenant at the 523 Stanford Ave. home is Mrs. Gladys Callen; Wayne Saathoff, 686 Warrington Ave., is the owner. Mrs. Callen said the house in which she was living was covered by insurance.

Firemen had to lay 2700 feet of hose. The county fire department sent three trucks to the scene. The Redwood City Fire Dept. dispatched five trucks. Woodside sent one truck.

Firemen were called to the fire at 6:31 Saturday. They returned to their stations about two hours later.

Heavy smoke from the blaze could be seen from a considerable distance and attracted a large number of spectators. Firemen reported the spectators did not interfere with operations, keeping at a distance from the scene.

Books were originally made of boards or the inner bark of trees.

C. E. Fuller Drowned In Service

Lt. (jg) Charles Eugene Fuller, USNR, who last month was reported lost at sea, drowned on June 25, 1944, while in the service of his country, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Eugene Fuller, 827 Arlington Rd., were informed by the Navy Department this week.

No details of his death were contained in the telegram which was the first official word his parents had received.

Last month, word was received that Lieutenant Fuller had been lost at sea.

Lieutenant Fuller, who received his navy training at Cornell and Harvard Universities, was home on leave in February of this year, and was expecting a leave from his duties in the South Pacific aboard a naval auxiliary vessel at the time of his death.

He was a graduate of Sequoia High School, San Jose State College, and Stanford University Law School.

Ayer, Keney Purchase Building on Broadway

W. E. Ayer and A. G. Keney, owners of the Redwood City Hardware Co. at 2615 Broadway, have purchased the building which they have occupied since the building was constructed in 1929.

The property was purchased from Lida E. Morrison, Lloyd E. Morrison and Jean B. Braddock. Stamps on a deed recorded with County Recorder T. Clark Rice at request of San Mateo County Title Co. indicate the sale price was approximately $45,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Johnson have sold their residence at 417 Virginia Ave., San Mateo, to Margaret O'Neill for an indicated price of $17,500. The deed was recorded at request of California Pacific Title & Trust

School Tax Rate Up 8.21 Cents

Taxpayers in the Sequoia High School District face an increased tax rate of 8.21 cents during the coming year over that paid in 1943-44, following the approval Tuesday by the Sequoia School District Board of a measure to set aside $50,000 a year for five years for postwar construction and repairs at Sequoia High School.

During the past year taxpayers paid 59.89 cents per $100 evaluation on personal and real property. Next year's budget calls for payment of 68.10 cents per $100 evaluation for the high school district, an increase of 8.21 cents.

However, this will not increase the operating cost, the board explained, as it merely establishes a building reserve which will be available after the war is over to make the improvements that the board believes necessary.

Since the county has not completed its study of property assessment valuations, it is impossible to estimate the total property tax in San Mateo County for the coming year, but the increase for the Sequoia High School District does affect the total amount that will be payable.

The board voted unanimously to accept a budget for the 1944-5 year of $554,666, of which $421,818 would be for operating expenses; $35,000 would apply on the purchase of new school sites; $47,848 balance in the building reserve account, and the $50,000 added reserve for postwar construction.

A. C. Argo, superintendent of the Sequoia School District, explained the building needs at the school as including added facilities in the boys' and girls' gymnasiums, a new commercial wing, additional shop facilities, enlarging the counseling offices, and purchase of two additional school sites within the school district. These, Argo said, are existing needs.

The estimated cost of the improvements was set at $331,000.

He further pointed out that an anticipated increase in enrollment after the war would make the building of additional facilities essential.

Argo laid three plans for payment before the board. The first, a 5-year plan, which was eventually accepted, allows for an addition of $50,000 a year for five years to the school budget; a second plan called for an addition of $62,000 a year to the budget for four years; a third plan was for a $250,000 bond issue.

The board also discussed possible sites for construction of another high school in the southern part of the school district in the Menlo-Atherton-Ravenswood area.

Several possible sites were mentioned as potentially acceptable, although quoted prices were believed to be too high.

Leslie Nichols, president of the Atherton Planning Commission; August Locke, secretary of the Menlo Park Planning Commission; James Cooper, a Menlo Park realtor, and George Cleese of Ravenswood School District, were present to assist the board members in their discussion of the possible sites.

Because further advice is being sought by the San Mateo County Planning Adviser Ronald Campbell, the board decided to take no action at last night's meeting.

All members of the Sequoia High School District Board were present at last night's open meeting. They included Chmn. C. H. Merrill, Secy. W. W. Hilton, Clifton Woodhams, L. A. Barrett, Stewart Copps, H. J. Lynch, business manager of the school district, and Supt. A. C. Argo.

Ward, 'Betty' Ask for Break

Charles H. Ward, blind custodian of the Redwood City Post Office newsstand who last year was awarded a seeing-eye dog by the Women's Auxiliary of the Disabled American Veterans, is having trouble keeping his dog under control, because of persisent attempts by strangers to attract the dog's attention.

"Betty," as the dog is referred to by friends, has received numerous reprimands from her master recently, as a result of her failure to obey orders, and passersby have criticized Ward for his punishment of the dog, when many of them are at fault themselves.

Last June, Ward went to Southern California to receive special instruction on how to train a seeing-eye dog. He learned several types of discipline to be used to make the dog valuable as a guide, and he has had to resort to some of this disciplinary action on "Betty" lately.

"I don't ask for any special favors but would appreciate ordinary courtesy. People who know me know that," commented Ward.

"People have accused me of beating 'Betty' because I carry a cane and once in a while, tap her to let her know when she does something wrong. I have never beaten her and now I going to quit carrying the cane so that people can't say that anymore," the veteran added.

Arrest M.P. Man For Disturbing Peace

Roy Parks, 52, of 1432 El Camino Real, Menlo Park, was arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace last night at 8:45 o'clock, Menlo Park police said today.

Parks was being cited for driving through a red stop light, when Officer George Potter made the arrest. The police records said that Parks became abusive, indecent, and used obscene language in the presence of women.

He was released on $25 bail pending his appearance in police court next Wednesday night.

TRANSFORMER BURNS OUT

Firemen disconnected the transformer before any damage was done to the house. Mrs. Jack Henson was the occupant of the house, firemen said.

The flea beetle lives and multiplies on potatoes, tomatoes, or such related weeds as nightshade and horsenettle.

Stress S.M. County Civilian Defense

Following in the wake of Supervisor Alvin D. Hatch's unsuccessful attempt this week to have the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors bring about a cessation of civilian defense activities, the San Mateo County War Council today issued a statement stressing the need of civilian defense vigilance.

The statement, issued today, and signed by Earl P. Wilsey, chairman; Theodore M. Lilienthal, director, and by Edward R. McDonald, chairman of the Three Cities Defense Council and a member of the Board of Supervisors reads in part:

"The importance of having a central nerve center in the county in case of a disaster cannot be emphasized too highly. While it is true that the protective phase of civilian defense has lost some of its importance, it is a very definite fact that this phase of the war is the most critical from our standpoint and that this is the time when anything can happen.

". . . . It should be borne in mind that the dissolution of the county organization of civilian defense was not even brought to a vote but merely that one member of the board stated that he thought the need for civilian defense had diminished to such an extent that it was no longer necessary. For the fiscal year 1944-45 no funds have been allocated for civilian defense, as the unexpended funds for the previous year were ample to carry on . . ."

Two Sailors Face Felony Charge Here

Two sailors stationed at Tanforan Replacement Center today face a felony charge of stealing an automobile after a race through Millbrae streets late Saturday night had ended with the stolen car crashing into a telephone pole.

The sailors are James Souza, 18, and Richard Wayne Weigle, 21, both of whom received treatment at the Tanforan hospital for injuries they suffered in the wreck.

Souza and Weigle are charged with stealing a rented automobile in which they were riding after being picked up by three other sailors, stationed at Treasure Island, who were returning to San Francisco from Redwood City.

A warrant, signed by Judge R. A. Rapsey of South San Francisco, showed that the automobile had been rented by W. H. Cooper, M. B. Young and J. P. Garrison of the Treasure Island Naval Station from Willig's Auto Rental in San Francisco, Saturday.

The three had journeyed to Redwood City, and on the return trip they picked up Souza and Weigle, who were hitching.

While the seamen from Treasure Island stopped at a Millbrae cafe for something to eat, Souza and Weigle drove off in the car, the complaint states.

Noticing that their rented automobile was being driven away, the trio enlisted the aid of a passing civilian motorist to follow the others, and a dash through country roads off the highway in Millbrae followed.

In attempting to escape, Souza and Weigle were unable to hold the controls of the car and it crashed into a telephone pole.

R.C. AUTO ACCIDENT

Both automobiles were slightly damaged, the accident report indicated.

Social Security Claims in San Mateo County Up 50%

SAN MATEO — Social security claims paid by the federal social security board for San Mateo County, in San Mateo, have increased 50 per cent since the first of this year, it was announced by Edward J. Foley, manager of the board.

Two hundred and eighty-six claims in all have been paid by the local board since Jan. 1, 1944, Foley said. He explained that the increased number of claims was due partly to deaths in the armed forces, and partly reflected population growth in this area.

Increase in social security benefits being paid out sharply underlines the necessity for workers to keep social security records straight, so that they may be paid all benefits due them, Foley said.

He explained that workers who don't know how much they have in their social security account, or think that some wages may not have been reported, may find out from their social security how much they are credited with by filling out a wage inquiry card, available at the board, 308 Baldwin Ave., San Mateo.

Workers from whose wages social security deductions are taken were urged by Foley to keep some record of all social security payments made by them. Wage receipts which employers are required to give all employes covered by social security are one way of keeping tab, he said. "However," he added, "if you don't get them or lose them, some personal record of your wages should be kept."

In this way, he explained, workers may be sure that they are being credited with all social security benefits due them. A personal record of his wages kept by the worker will aid the board if the worker wants information concerning his social security account, Foley emphasized.

R.C. Woman May Face Charge of Perjury

SAN MATEO—Gifford T. Hart, 31-year-old Menlo Park chemist was found guilty of drunken driving in Judge Francis W. Murphy's San Mateo Municipal Court yesterday and will be sentenced Saturday.

The verdict came after Hart, who is employed in a Redwood City cement plant, pleaded not guilty to the charge, which grew out of his arrest July 31, at 31st Ave., on El Camino Real, where police said he was driving 84 miles per hour.

The district attorney's office today was investigating the case further at the instruction of Judge Murphy with a view towards charging one of the defense witnesses, Mrs. Lorene Harvey, of Redwood City with perjury. On the stand yesterday, she told the court she had been driving the car at the time. Hart was found guilty of himself driving the car, while drunk.

GARDEN: 'Every Carrot Counts' Says Columnist

BY ROLLY LANGLEY

I took a bit of a ribbing last week for my enthusiasm over an original formula for the preparation of raw carrots, but I think if you'll try it, you'll agre that, more than ever, "Every Carrot Counts!"

The formula was invented of necessity. Dinner was about ready and there was no salad. Something quick and easy was indicated, and this it what happened:

Taking five fair sized Chantenay carrots, I peeled them and then rubbed them through a flat metal slicer or grater, into a large mixing bowl. To this I added four tablespoonsful of mayonnaise. A taste showed this needed a bit of vinegar, so I added three tablespoons of garlic vinegar and mixed it in.

Another taste showed that it was improving, but needed salt. So I sprinkled in about a tablespoonful, and the dish was beginning to take on such character that it was necessary to peel and grate another carrot to make up for the sampling.

As a final ingredient, I mixed in about four tablespoons of canned pear juice. . . . Now that I have the formula worked out, I could repeat this prescription in five minutes, including the peeling.

Twenty years ago, Lester L. Morse prepared some field notes on California carrots in which he states that in 1918 this country produced 2,350,000 pounds of carrot seeds, of which 880,000 pounds were sent overseas. When you realize that in a single ounce there are about 18,000 carrot seeds, of which about 70 per cent can be expected to germinate and mature at weight of from three to eight ounces or more, you get the idea that in World War I, they agree "Every Carrot Counts!"

"Here in California, the (carrot) is usually sown for roots about July 1, which insures good full-sized roots in November and December, when these roots are pulled and sorted and set out in the field for seed. . . ." he wrote.

Do you get the idea? If you're growing carrots for seed, then you transplant them—after the roots are well grown, during the Winter choosing only the good roots, which will send up seed stalks in the Spring.

But if you're growing carrots for food, then you shouldn't transplant at all. Rather, you plant in place, and keep the rows free of weeds, well irrigated and fertilized. And you thin, if necessary, to about an inch, to inch and a half, apart.

"The culture for carrots is of the simplest," Morse wrote. "Well grown and perfect roots develop, however, only in rich friable soil, preferably sandy loam, or even clear sand when well fertilized and kept moist.

"The flavor and tenderness of table varieties is secured by a quick growth, which usually means good growing weather in the Spring, Summer or early Fall.

"In loose soil or pest or muck lands, no thinning is necessary, except for the purpose of getting large roots, or perfectly formed ones," he continued. "In the summer months it is sometimes difficult to get the seed up on account of the heat, and in the home gardens a light sprinkling of wood shavings or straw will help, providing they are removed promptly when the sprouts begin to appear. The clearing should be done late in the afternoon. . . .

"Carrots are usually quite free from pests and diseases. The usual danger from ground worms and slugs, always prevalent, but once up they are easier to grow than most vegetables. . ."

Since those notes were written, snail and slug baits have been much improved. Now they contain an active lure—metaldehyde. And as for the soil pests, soil fumigants which drive out the pests without hurting the root crops are now available for amateurs.

REMINDER: If you'd like a trial packet of the Slow Bolting Flat Dutch Cabbage Seed—the new variety from the strong cabbage odor, send a self-addressed stamped envelope right away to Rolly Langley, care of this paper. You'll receive enough seed to assure several dozen heads, which should average from six to eight pounds apiece.

This offer is made as a part of our continued war effort—to stimulate more home food production. Please send no money.

Dieppe Survivor Speaks Here

The first American soldier to land in France in World War II, Sgt. Ervin J. Moger, a member of the First Ranger Battalion and one of 199 survivors in the Dieppe Raid, told the Kiwanis Club of his experiences at its meeting yesterday at Sodini's.

Sergeant Moger told Kiwanis members that only one in eight who participated in the Dieppe landing came out alive, and many of them, including himself, were hospitalized because of injuries.

Kiwanians heard of the torrid 3-month training period that the Ranger battalions are subjected to. Sergeant Moger told of the rationing of food at certain times during the training schedule to three-quarters of a pound of food for an 18-day period.

The men work in pairs, Moger explained, and by the end of the training period, after eating, sleeping, and working together, they know their buddies better than themselves, he said.

Clarence M. Doxsee, who was celebrating his 83rd birthday, was given a rousing reception by his fellow Kiwanians during the meeting.

AUTO COLLISION

San Carlos Man Lost In Air Crash

Harry W. Morgan Jr., whose wife resides at 772 Orange Ave., San Carlos, was listed as "killed or missing" when the Pan-American plane on which he was first officer crashed at an unnamed Pacific base last Monday, an Associated Press dispatch revealed today.

Nineteen officers and men were lost in the plane crash which also claimed the life of Rear Adm. Charles P. Cecil, onetime commander of the cruiser Helena. All aboard were listed as dead or missing, the dispatch said.

First Officer Morgan, 26, was a native of Port Arthur, Tex., and attended school in Monticello, Ark. He attended Arkansas A & M University, and later attended the University of Illinois from which he was graduated in 1937 with a degree in banking and finance.

He was employed by General Electric Co. from 1937 to 1940, and in May, 1940, enlisted in the Army Air Corps.

He resigned from the corps in December, 1940, to join Pan-American one month later. He was a junior pilot stationed at Miami for a short time and later was transferred to the Atlantic division. He came to California in April of this year and was stationed at Treasure Island as senior pilot.

S.F. Woman Injured When Car Overturns

A San Francisco woman received minor injuries yesterday when the automobile in which she was riding skidded on loose gravel and overturned on Skyline Blvd. six-tenths of a mile from the Belmont Rd. intersection.

Cassell, who investigated, said. Captain Cassell was called from the meeting held in County Executive Frederick Peterson's office on countywide ambulance service to check the injury accident.

Atty. Joseph J. Bullock of Redwood City today said he would meet with Gov. Earl Warren within the next 10 days in a final effort to get the sentence of Florencio Alcalde, convicted of murder, changed from death in the lethal gas chambers to life imprisonment.

The supreme court has denied a rehearing of the case. Alcalde, who was convicted of murder for the death of Bernice Curtis of San Francisco, is scheduled to die in the gas chambers at San Quentin Aug. 18. Miss Curtis' body was found in a field along Alma St. in Palo Alto.

Invention of Gadget Wins Prize for Jordan

A device to increase the production of wooden plugs from 50 to 900 per hour has won a $250 award for Fred A. Jordan, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Jordan of Redwood City and civilian employe at the Marine Corps' San Francisco Depot.

Jordon, a woodworker and joiner of the woodworking section of the utilities division, devised a gadget which resembles a crude pencil sharpener and permits two people to work at the same time. The plugs are inserted, tapered to the desired size, and withdrawn.

The increased production has made a net saving of some $7220 on the prepared contract.

Jordan and his wife, the former Lydia Springer, reside in San Francisco. He is a graduate of Sequoia High School and has worked at the depot for the past three years.

MACHINES MAKE JOBS — AND CHEAPER PRODUCTS

The American worker doesn't want to be better off than the Russian, Swiss or British worker. The American worker wants to be better off than the American worker. So says F. C. Crawford, one of America's leading industrial managers.

In other words, the American worker wants to grow. He wants better pay and a better life all around. He has already passed the workers of other countries, and he wants to pass himself.

One way he will do this will be to welcome the coming of better MACHINES—which he is apt to regard at first as his enemies.

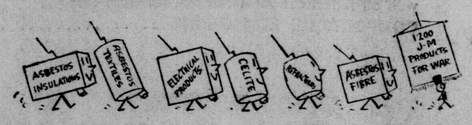
A rubber tire in 1912 cost $65 and was good for 5000 miles. But just before this war, a rubber tire cost $12 and was good for 20.000 miles.

And the answer is MACHINES. And since tires were cheaper and more in demand, the tire industry in 1940 employed many thousands more men than it did in 1912.

And each of these workers and each of us could buy a tire four times as good for one-fifth the money.

Machines not only make more jobs but give jobholders more for the dough they earn from their jobs.

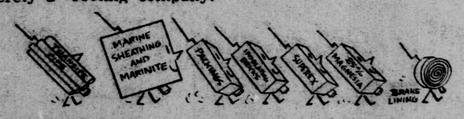
LITTLE BITS OF J-M HISTORY



Johns-Manville makes more than 1200 different products, and most of these now go to war.

They go not only to the armed services, but to other industries to help them produce for the armed services.

From our Chrysotile, Arizona, mine, for example, comes a special grade of fibre used in the production of blood plasma and in delicate electrical insulations for naval vessels, airplanes and anti-aircraft. J-M is not merely a "roofing company."



Another example: from our Lompoc, California, mine and plant comes a J-M laboratory product, Sorbo-Cel, to answer the Navy's need for a new type of boiler water clarifier without which a certain type of aircraft carrier could not have reached peak performance.

And this is to say nothing of the hundreds of asbestos fireproof materials and other J-M products that go into ships, military buildings, etc. And it is to say nothing about the shells we load by the thousand at the Kansas Ordnance Plant.

S. C. Man Tackles Assailant

SAN MATEO — A sleepy Milbrae construction worker, angry because he slept through his destination while en route on a Greyhound bus from San Francisco Monday broke a whiskey bottle over the driver's head in San Mateo, and assaulted him with a knift stab to the chest and back, according to police.

The driver, Frank Martin Jr., 42, of 24 Willow St., Redwood City, was treated at Mills Hospital Monday for an inch deep puncture wound in the chest and a similar one in the back, but was dismissed. The assailant, James W. Cummings Jr., 32, in police custody, was treated at Mills Hospital and later transferred to Community Hospital for a deep gash of the right index finger and a broken left wrist. He sustained his injuries he said, in a scuffle with two passengers, who apprehended him after his attack on the driver.

At police headquarters this morning, charged with assault with a deadly weapon and jailed in lieu of $2500 cash or $5000 bond bail, Cummings denied he had attacked Martin with either the bottle or the knife, and demanded a lawyer before being questioned further.

The police account of what happened, however, based on the driver's statement and testimony by four witnesses, went something like this:

Cummings, employed by the Morrison-Knudson Co. at Milbrae, is a transient worker, who came to the Peninsula two weeks ago. Early last evening he boarded a bus in San Francisco en route to Milbrae and said he told the driver to tell him when they arrived. When the bus reached Milbrae, Cummings was sleeping and the driver said he announced the station, then drove on.

When they rolled into the San Mateo depot at 10:15 p.m. Cummings awoke and demanded of the driver why he had been permitted to sleep past his station. An argument ensued in which witnesses said Cummings hit Martin over the head with a brown quart-size empty whiskey bottle, and when Martin attempted to rise and defend himself, Cummings allegedly drew a pocket knife and struck two blows to Martin's body.

Following the altercation, Cummings allegedly bolted from the bus, followed by two passengers hot in pursuit, R. O. Rogers, of 990 Hall St., San Carlos, and Berl Gray, 522 Cypress Ave., South San Francisco. Several blocks away on Second Ave., near San Mateo Dr., they overtook him and brought him to a stop with a flying tackle. As he fell he broke his left wrist, Cummings later told police.

When taken into police custody, officers said, Cummings did not have the knife in his possession, but it was later discovered stuffed in the upholstery of the seat of the patrol car where Cummings had been sitting. Other witnesses to the fracas gave their names as Calif. State Guard Lt. Albert M. Bemiss, of 1122 Laguna Ave., Burlingame, and G. W. Wynot, another Greyhound bus driver residing at 2333 El Camino Real, San Mateo.

The arrest was made by Officer E. W. Eitel, and under questioning today by Insp. Tom Connors, Cummings denied he had been drinking but admitted he had consumed a bottle of beer. He said his home was in Knoxville, Tenn.

$7200 Fire Guts Millbrae Pet Shop; Court Also Burns

BURLINGAME—Fire last night ravaged the Millbrae Pet Shop on El Camino Real in Millbrae, leaving the building a gutted shell and destroying more than 100 canaries and birds of other species, while simultaneously another fire swept a bungalow in English Court, Millbrae.

The total loss today was set at $7200. The only person injured in either blaze was a Lomita Park fireman who suffered a cut hand.

The entire Millbrae volunteer fire department and an engine crew from the Lomita Park department —about 25 men in all battled the two blazes which were reported within five minutes of one another.

Fire Chief Les Pallas of Millbrae estimated loss in the pet shop fire at $5000 while setting the damage in the English Court blaze at about $2200.

Fifteen doys confined in the rear of the pet shop were freed before the blaze reached them, and hundreds of pigeons kept in cages outside of the building also were released. Nearly all of the pigeons returned to the cages during the night and were recovered.

To the normal risks run by firemen fighting the pet shop blaze were added the perils of the battlefield, when the flames reached a large stock of small arms ammunition kept in the shop. Firemen were forced to dodge .38 caliber and shotgun shell charges which were discharged in all directions. The pet shop fire firemen ascertained, began near a stove in the rear of the shop, and was caused either by a defective flue or "something left on the stove," Chief Pallas said today. The bungalow fire apparently was started by a cigaret Pallas declared.

Fire loss in both cases was only partially covered by insurance it is believed.

No one was in either building when the fires broke out.

The fire at English Court, a collection of small residential bungalows on El Camino Real just north of Center St., was reported at 10:15 p.m. last night. Five minutes later, the alarm for the pet shop blaze was turned in.

An engine speeding to the English Court conflagration passed the burning pet shop but had no choice except to proceed to the scene of the first fire, Pallas explained.

Man on Bicycle Collides With Car

George Brown, 63, a caretaker on a Palo Alto estate, was injured this week when the bicycle he was riding collided with an automobile driven by Will A. Taylor, 24, of Fresno, on Bayshore Hwy., and First Ave., Redwood City.

Brown was taken to the Palo Alto Hospital for treatment for bruises to his arms, legs and body. Taylor told County Highway Patrol officers that he did not see the bicycle approaching. He was not held.

Both drivers were injured late yesterday when the trucks they were driving collided on Bayshore Hwy., near East Palo Alto. The injured are Delwyn E. Anderson, 21, Fresno, and Howard E. Wormer, 48, San Jose. Neither required hospital treatment.

S.F. Couple Files Suit Against Commander

Suit for $10,000 personal damages against Lt. Comdr. John H. G. Brahtz of Hunters Point was filed by Marie and Hedwig Detert of San Francisco in San Mateo County Superior Court, today.

Mrs. Detert received a bone fracture in her left leg, bruises and contusions, and nervous shock, when the Brahtz car collided with the one driven by her husband at the Junipero Serra Blvd., junction near Cypress Lawn Cemetery in Colma, July 16, her complaint stated.

In addition to the personal damages, the Deterts are seeking damage to automobile which they allege was badly smashed by the accident.

Lieutenant Commander Brahtz, currently serving with the United States Navy, has his home in Denver.

Pacific Greyhound Lines Sued for $5450 Damage

Pacific Greyhound Lines and Lester A. Wiles, bus driver for the firm, today were named defendants in a $5450 damage suit filed in superior court here by Leslie Otis Goin claimed he received injuries when the automobile he was driving and a bus driven by Wiles collided on Bayshore Hwy. at Grand Ave., South Francisco, Aug. 21 of last year. He asks $5000 personal damages and $450 damage to his automobile.

School Districts To Study Budgets

Proposed budgets for several high school districts within the county come up for consideration this week with the Sequoia, Pescadero, and Coastside Districts leading the way, Monday, and the Pescadero and Half Moon Bay Districts meeting tomorrow and Saturday, respectively.

The Sequoia Union High School District board, which comprises the most densely populated area in the county, this week approved a budget of $554,666, while budgets of $24,875 at Pescadero, and $24,905 at the Coastside were also accepted.

At Pescadero, board members will vote on an anticipated budget of $8,914, and at Half Moon Bay the proposed budget calls for expenditure of $38,079 during the next fiscal year.

New And Scientific Dairy Farm

. . . at Manteca, Calif., is the most modern dairy in America. Here every one of our prize dairy herd is milked without a human hand touching the animal.

Cows go down a concrete runway, are thoroughly washed and are scientifically prepared for milking. The milking process is entirely mechanical . . . fast and sanitary.

The milk is automatically carried by stainless-steel tubing to a refrigerated glass-lined cooling tank for transportation to the Peninsula, where it is bottled under strict sanitary conditions.

This new method of dairying was developed at the University of Wisconsin. We are the first on the Peninsula to achieve this great new improvement in dairying.

Despondent Woman Dies From Poison; Leaves Two Notes

Mrs. Emily Gladstone, 44-year-old resident of Redwood City for the past two years, committed suicide shortly before midnight last night by drinking poison, Redwood City police said today.

Mrs. Gladstone, believed to have been despondent for some time, left two hand-written notes, one to her 6-year-old son, Theodore, who was staying with relatives in San Francisco last night, and another note which tersely stated, "I drank poison of my own free will. (Signed) Emily Gladstone."

After drinking the poison, she left her home at 147 Central Ave. and went to the home of Malcolm Hubback, 55 Murray Court, where she told Hubback that she had consumed the poison and collapsed.

An ambulance was summoned immediately, but upon her arrival at Community Hospital, Mrs. Gladstone was pronounced dead.

Mrs. Gladstone came to Redwood City two years ago from Modesto with her husband, Abraham Gladstone, who is employed by the Yellow Cab Co. in San Francisco. Gladstone was at work at the time of her death. They had recently purchased a home in Loma Mar and were soon to move there.

In the note to her son, she said, "I wanted you for so many years and have been so proud of having my own baby boy . . . I wish I might be strong enough to stay with you. Someday when you are older you will understand how very hard I tried.

"There is nothing ahead for me. I love you, Teddy, and believe me in that."

Deputy Coroner Lewis E. Franklin said today an autopsy would be performed, and that Joseph Swim, San Francisco toxicologist would analyze the contents of the dead woman's stomach.

Mrs. Gladstone is survied by her husband, Abraham, a son, Theodore, and a brother, Raymond T. Bush of Alhambra, Calif.

Burglar Enters Economy Drug Co.

Between $250 and $275 was stolen from the Economy Drug Store, 2636 Broadway, sometime this week by a burglar who gained entry by breaking a window in the rear of the store, Redwood City police said today.

The loss was discovered this morning when clerks reported for work at the store.

Apparently no stock was taken from the drug store, police said, although the burglar had molested several articles.

The peace pipe still is smoked by many Canadian Indian tribes, particularly when a bargain is being sealed.

Apartment House, Residences Sold

An apartment house at 429 Bellevue Ave., Burlingame, has been sold by Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Watts to Mr. and Mrs. Alvin H. Behrendt for an indicated price of $30,000. There are seven apartments in the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlo dePetris have sold their home in Atherton to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene H. Nowlin. Stamps on a deed recorded with County Recorder T. Clark Rice indicate the sale price was $26,500.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Benninghoven have sold a residence in San Mateo Park to Therese M. Stockton for an indicated price of $19,000.

Leslie Linfoot Held To Answer in Court

Justice of the Peace Edward I. McAuliffe ordered Leslie R. (Pat) Linfoot, 44-year-old Woodside riding academy master, charged with lewd and lascivious conduct, held to answer to superior court.

Linfoot's bail was exonerated and Linfoot was ordered into the custody of the sheriff. He had been free on $1500 cash bail.

Judge McAuliffe ordered Linfoot to answer to one count of lewd and lascivious conduct but dismissed a second count.

This morning's session was held in closed court.

Linfoot was arrested July 8 on a charge of molesting a 12-year-old Emerald Lake girl whom he allegedly lured into the hills near his academy.

Linfoot, a former polo player, was acquitted on May 3 in superior court in San Jose of contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old Palo Alto girl.

She is now under the able direction of Mr. Bill Hayes of San Francisco, who also taught the famous Giny Sims. Carmen is pictured as she sang at a Kiwanis Club bond rally at the Broadway bond booth recently.

YLI 'Game Night' And Supper Party Is Social Event

The Young Ladies' Institute met at the home of Mrs. Joseph Britschgi last evening for a "Game Night" at which 30 members and friends were present.

A variety of games including rummy and bingo were played during the evening after which refreshments were served. Upon leaving the home of Mrs. Britschgi, the group sojourned to the home of Mrs. Angelina Albertoli, where a spaghetti dinner was prepared for them. "Game Night" proved to be a successful beginning of the social events planned for the month of August by the Institute, said Miss Doris Canvin, chairman for the evening.

Tonight the Past Presidents' Club, including members who are past-presidents, are holding a reunion dinner at the Hawaiian Gardens in San Jose. Reservations were made for 15 members.

San Carlos Legionnaires Install Officers

At the speaker's rostrum, decorated with red, white and blue bunting, a large plastic bowl on a tall stand contained dark red gladioli, white shasta daisies, white poppies and tall blue lilies of the Nile. On each side of the rostrum was an American flag and the legion and auxiliary flags. The refreshment tables in the inner hall were set with lace cloths centered by bowls of multi-colored tuberous begonias and blue candlesticks in silver holders.

Installing officers were Harry Welch of Belmont chef de gare of the Forty and Eight and Mrs. Beatrice Camgros, auxiliary district president. Mrs. Zelma Buckholz, president-elect of the 26th District, was honorary sergeant-at-arms. The ritualistic teams of the Forty and Eight and of the salon conducted the officers to their posts for installation and obligation. Distinguished officials of the legion and auxiliary of nearby cities present were Charles R. Cathey, first vice commander of the district, Mrs. Laura Roedar of Belmont, and Mrs. Don Andrews, vice president of the district auxiliary.

Commander Knoy, retiring president, paid high tribute to the post and elaborated on the many achievements during the year by the post and individual members. He said the prime aim of the organization was to work as a unit.

Truman Waterman, new post commander, stressed the fact that the paramount objective of the post today should be its interest in the returning war veterans. He said that after 25 years of pioneering since the last war the post was in a position to guide and advise returning veterans and he felt every legionnaire was privileged to be able to help in this at this critical time. He pointed out that right in San Carlos out of 13 returned war veterans 12 had already joined the legion.

Mrs. John Anthony McGee, retiring auxiliary president, who wore a black gown with gardenias in her hair, stressed particularly the war work done by her group during the year, thanked the press for its co-operation, and expressed her pleasure in how the Belmont and San Carlos auxiliaries had worked together on several projects.

Mrs. McKellar, who wore a gown of light blue and an orchid corsage, briefly named the aims she had set for the coming year, emphasizing the importance of rehabilitation work among the veterans.

Mayor A. H. Sagehorn, in addressing the gathering, said the city was proud of the American Legion and Auxiliary and that on occasions when he had called upon these organizations he had received immediate response and co-operation from both. He also suggested that the legion assume the responsibility for a permanent roll of honor and a suitable memorial to be erected in the city. He then read a letter which he had received from the governor's office in Sacramento commending W. P. Murphy, San Carlos legion member, and veterans of this war for his outstanding work with his public address system during the recent disaster at Port Chicago.

Other officials installed were: Bruce Allen, first vice commander; Capt. Herman J. Johnson Jr., World War II veteran and holder of the Distinguished Service Cross, second vice commander; Sam Saboff, historian; Dr. William Cameron, chaplain; Russell O. Rogers, World War II veteran and holder of the Purple Heart Medal, sergeant at arms; Bror A. Lindberg, finance officer; and Richard Evans, Frank Fink and Stephen E. Day, directors.

Auxiliary officers who were obligated Tuesday evening were: Mrs. V. J. Thomas, first vice president; Mrs. Howard Iams, second vice president; Mrs. Eva Huseby, secretary; Mrs. L. H. Forsman, treasurer; Mrs. Russell Rogers, sergeant at arms; Mrs. Albert Knoy, marshal; Mrs. Fred Prince, historian; Mrs. Agnes Nichols, chaplain; and Mrs. Willis Donnan, Mrs. Truman Waterman and Mrs. V. H. Charles, directors.

Committee chairmen named by Commander Waterman were: Frank M. Streebee, World War II veteran, adjutant; Lloyd Tobey, finance and budget; Stephen Day, publicity; new legion home committee, C. L. Loubert; service and rehabilitation, Harold Borchers; Americanism, Svend Nielsen; delegate to USO committee, Albert Knoy, Boys' State; Horace Manion; Boy Scouts, V. J. Thomas and community service, Clarence Stenquist.

Mrs. McDugald named for her committee members: Mrs. Nichols, membership; Mrs. Iams, rehabilitation; Mrs. Charles F. Holzwarth, Americanism; Mrs. Waterman, hospitality; Mrs. Tobey, parliamentarian and music; Mrs. P. N. Van Dyne, community service; Mrs. Dorothy Deacon, cnild welfare; Mrs. Willis Donnan, publicity; Mrs. Thomas, Pan-Americanism; Mrs. McGee, retiring president, national defense; Mrs. Frederick Gaiter, war activity; Mrs. Maud Webster, poppy; Mrs. Loubert, national news.

Mrs. Holzwarth, Mrs. Webster and Mrs. Waterman had charge of decorations and refreshments assisted by many of the auxiliary members.

Mrs. Paul F. McManus arranged the music composed of tunes of World War I and World War II and Mrs. T. J Sillstrop was the pianist. The program concluded with the singing of "God Bless America."

Sea Lion Training Lore

Sea lions must be captured at exactly the right age if they are to be trained. If taken before learning to swim, they die in captivity, and if caught after the age of six months, they are difficult to train.

COMMUTERS: Soap Operas Pet Peeve for Joe Caboose

BY JOE CABOOSE

That Germany is breaking up and will soon throw in the towel is a foregone conclusion. What most of us would like to know is, how long can Japan stand alone after Germany is defeated? The best official guess is six months.

★ ★ ★

So those of you with sons, husbands, sweethearts, etc., in the armed forces overseas may look hopefully toward Apr. 1, next year, as the deadline for the termination of hostilities on all fronts. This is not mere wishful thinking. It's what the experts predict.

★ ★ ★

Rummaging through the family library the other night, we came across an old book entitled "The War in the East," copyrighted in 1895 by Trumbull White, a newspaperman; with an introduction by Julius Kumpei Matumoto, A. M., of Tokyo, Japan. It told of the war in which Japan wrested Corea (now spelled Korea) from China.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Matumoto, Harvard educated, was one of Nippon's earliest fat-headed propagandists. Listen to this, written 50 years ago: "From the outbreak of the war all the civilized nations, except England, have sympathized with Japan; especially the people of America have given a strong moral support to Japan . . . because Japan is, today, the propagandist of civilization and humanity in the Far East."

★ ★ ★

Matumoto tells about Commodore Perry's "intrusion" in 1853, after which "Japan stood naked against the armed civilization of the West. She was forced to make disadvantageous treaties with the European and American states at the cannon's mouth." Then in 1868 a revolution took place, from which the New Japan suddenly emanated.

★ ★ ★

"The Revolution of 1868 is merely a moment of transition when Japan adopted the western system," explains Matumoto. "The Japanese mind was fully developed and enlightened, at the time when they came in contact with the foreigners, to fully grasp western civilization. Mentally, the Japanese people were so enlightened as to be able to digest European science and art at one glance."

★ ★ ★

Modest people, aren't they? To digest all of western culture at a glance? Apparently they haven't been doing so well with the navy's 15-inch shells . . . or the "eggs" from the B-29's. And this is how the Harvard-educated Matumoto ended his introduction to Mr. White's "War in the East," written 50 years ago: "Japan fights today for the sake of civilization and humanity. The banner of the 'Rising Sun' is now triumphant. Japan dictating the terms of peace signifies the beginning of a better era for benighted China and the preservation of permanent peace in the Orient." (Hurrah again, for "permanent peace!")

★ ★ ★

In other words, Japan, the champion of "civilization and humanity," was fighting then as she is today to lead the Chinese out of barbarity and darkness. Which is to laugh! The Chinese were civilized 2000 years before the Japs learned to walk on their hind legs. The Japs were still hanging from trees by their tails and cracking nuts in their teeth when Confucius compiled his celebrated "Book of Odes."

★ ★ ★

Which has nothing at all to do with Commuters, and we beg your pardon. But the war still is the No. 1 topic of conversation throughout the world and in parts of Redwood City. We met an army man from Alaska recently and he thinks everyone is becoming "war weary." He said even the Eskimos are now talking with a southern accent.

★ ★ ★

Laid up with a cold for two days, we had a chance to hear again some of the soap operas on the radio. The silliest of all is Helen Trent, "who is proof that romance need not be dead for a woman of 35 or more." Poor Helen has been trying to marry some palooka for 15 years, to our knowledge. If she started when she was 35, she is at least 50 now. Romance in her case may not be dead, but it might just as well be. Remember we didn't say this, and we don't believe it, but the author of Helen Trent clearly implies that: "Marriage is death to Romance." In other words, better to have your romance than marriage!

★ ★ ★

Commuter personals . . . Have you seen "Admiral" Hugh McKenna in his new Coast Guard patrol uniform? He looks very dapper . . . Claude Gerdes paid off a $5 bet to Wrex Cruse in pennies. Many of the coppers bore the marks of baby teeth, indicating their piggy bank origin. . . . After 14 years of life as a semi-retired country gentleman, Bill Curran has been "found out" by his employer, A. Aug. 1, Bill goes back on the road Carlisle & Co., and put to work. to cover six Calif. counties, Monterey, San Benito, Santa Cruz, Santa Clara, San Mateo and Marin. Bill formerly worked (and we say that advisedly) only Wednesdays and Fridays, in San Mateo County. What he did on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, no one ever knew, not even Mrs. Curran. Now apparently, after 14 years, Mr. Carlisle himself has become curious. Be that as it may, it's our wager—for money, chalk or marbles—that Bill Curran can turn in more business, and have more satisfied customers, in two days a week than the average salesman can in seven. And we have a hunch Mr. Carlisle counts himself fortunate in having Bill Curran on his team.

★ ★ ★

Other dates to remember: Saturday Aug. 19, the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce annual barbeque and dance at Sequoia High School. . . . Sunday, Sept. 3, Commuters annual barbecue at the tum Suden estate in Emerald Lak

★ ★ ★

We have just learned with dee regret of the passing of Josep Corbett . . . Saturday night a French Hospital in San Francisc While his death was not unexpect ed, it came as a great shock to hi hundreds of friends and forme Commuter associates in Redwoo City. Out of respect to his mem ory, the Commuters' annual chil dren's party at the old Corbet home on Hopkins, now owned b Mr. and Mrs. Earle Bach, an scheduled for Aug. 6, has been can celled. May his kindly soul rest i peace.

Salada Beach Gets Writ of Mandate

Superior Court Judge Maxwell McNutt this week issued an alternative writ of mandate ordering the directors of the Salada Beach Public Utilities District to make an assessment of taxes sufficient to pay claims totaling $4696.50 or to show cause why they have not done so.

C. E. Sweet and Marie O. Herndon, owners of bonds on the district, brought suit in superior court here for an alternative writ of mandate against the public utilities district and its directors, Ray T. Higgins, George Pappas and Ray Washburn.

The complaint alleged that at a special eelction Jan. 5, 1931, the voters of the district authorized a funded indebtedness of $10,000, with bonds paying 6 per cent interest. The plaintiffs alleged the directors failed to annually levy and collect taxes sufficient to pay the interest and principal on the bonds and have failed to set aside from surplus earnings of the district or from a general fund sufficient money to pay interest and principal. They have no funds available and they refuse to provide a sinking fund, the complaint states.

What to do with raisins

RAISINS can be used in so many refreshing ways! Here are a few that I've used (perhaps some will be new to you):

Make a Sandwich by mixing ⅓ chopped raisins and ⅔ honey. (If you're in the mood for a really sweet tidbit, use graham crackers or vanilla wafers.)

Add Raisins to cole slaw and shredded raw carrots, for a salad which is cool but hearty.

Your Favorite recipe for muffins or biscuits or cup cakes will be enriched if you add ½ cup of raisins to the batter. The same thing can be done for gingerbread.

"Take-Out" Lunches (carried on youngsters' summertime hikes, for example) take on new interest when you include a generous amount of raisins.

When Cooking hot cereals (yes, they're mighty good, and good for you, even on an August morning!), mix in a half-cup of raisins for each quart of cereal, as you begin to cook it.

For Dessert, try thin, rolled-up pancakes topped with a rich raisin sauce and served with lemon slices.

Ice Cream, made at home, achieves an interesting new texture and flavor if you mix in ½ cup of washed raisins just before freezing.
